

The Simone de Beauvoir Institute

and

the Social Concerns Committee of the Unitarian Church of Montreal

present

Native Women

speaker Alanis Obomsawin

Wednesday, March 6, 1991

at 19:30

The Unitarian Church of Montreal 3415 Simpson Street (Corner Sherbrooke St. W.
one block west of Guy Street)

Ms. Obomsawin is a film maker at the National Film Board and a singer. She is President of the Board of Directors of the Montreal Native Women's Shelter, and has a broad perspective on various issues concerning native women. Last summer she stayed at the Oka Treatment Centre filming and recording events as they unfolded. She is currently making a documentary film on the Oka crisis. She will speak on various issues concerning native women.

Admission is free, all are welcome. For more information, please contact Marlean Martin at 935-1522 or Sue Sullivan at the Simone de Beauvoir Institute at 848-2373.